Judge Sparks Indicates That He Will

Petition

HEARING IN CIRCUIT COURT

Effort of Council to Improve Branch is Attacked on Ground That it Was Illegally Certified.

The struggle of the city council in their attempt to improve Hodges Branch, by enclosing it with a 51 foot concrete sewer, was believed lost again, when the plea in abatement filed by remonstrators was heard this morning in the circuit court, and intimated by Judge Sparks as being good, although he stated that no record would be made of it until Monday.

The sewer improvement, which was thrown out of court once before because of an error in defining the boundary lines which were said to be affected by the water shed, was attacked again in the plea in abatement, on grounds that the city council had not acted in a legal manner in certifying the case to the circuit court.

The records of the city council were introduced as evidence, and there was nothing in them to show that the city council had acted on the plans, after the city engineer had drawn up, or had approved of them being filed in the circuit court.

The remonstrators maintained that the boundary lines set out in the list, were not sufficient in determining who would be assessed outside of the city limits, or what extent the territory would be taken in, that would be affected.

The main point of contention, and upon which the plea in abatement was intimated as being sustained by the court, was that the facts in the case and all necessary manner of proceedings with the case, had not been properly taken care of, and acted upon as the council as a body but had been approved and presented by the city engineer.

By sustaining the plea in abatement, it will mean that the case goes back to the city council, and that it will be necessary to proceed again, if the matter is to be assessed to in-

DEBT LEGISLATION HITS SNAG IN SENATE

Plans Of Leaders To Report Measure Were Upset By Senators Who Demanded Full Hearings

PASSAGE OF BILL PREDICTED

Washington, Feb. 10.—Debt funding legislation which would enable this government to consummate the agreement with Great Britain struck a snag in the senate finance committee.

Plans of administration leaders to report the measure were upset today by Senators La Follette of Wisconsin and Walsh of Massachusetts, who demanded full hearings on the bill. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was summoned to appear before the committee today.

Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee and Representative Collier, Mississippi, ranking Democrat, agreed to divide four hours general debate on the bill.

Democratic leaders indicated objections to some of the negotiations.

The house passed the bill late Friday, 291 to 44, and it now goes to the senate.

Representative London, New York, the only Socialist member of the House, said he rejoiced at the opportunity afforded him to support a measure which would "promote world peace."

"I am in such thorough sympathy with the great majority of the members of the House in this matter," he said, "that I am beginning to doubt whether I am right."

One Republican, McCormick of Montana, and forty-three Democrats opposed the settlement while 227 Republicans, sixty-three Democrats and one Socialist member voted for it.

RICHARD CRAWFORD DEAD

Expires at Home of His Son at Age of 78 Years

Richard Crawford, age 78 years, died this morning about 7:40 o'clock at the home of his son, Otis Crawford, 333 East Tenth street, where he had made his home for several years. The deceased had been a long sufferer with dropsy. Besides the son here, he also is survived by a daughter, May Nading of Columbus, who was adopted by Mr. Nading of that city.

The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence and burial will be made in East Hill cemetery.

POLITICAL FIGHT HOLDS THE STAGE

Battle of House Democrats Against Appropriation to Finish Reformatory Ineffective

ADVANCED TOWARDS PASSAGE

Expected to be Sent to Senate Early Next Week—Trustees Show Economy of The Plan

Indianapolis, Ind. Feb. 10.—A political fight by House Democrats on the appropriation to complete the new reformatory at Pendleton was the center of the legislative stage for the last week. Despite the Democrat's obstructive tactics, the budget bill, which includes the reformatory appropriation, was advanced toward passage, and it is expected to be sent to the Senate early next week.

In a nutshell, the motive back of the fight was exposed by a Democratic leader, John W. Holtzman of this city, who volunteered the statement that "those most familiar with the work said the cost would be $2,000,000, and those opposed favored $750,000," and Mr. Holtzman added "there can be no such discrepancy and have the buildings put up suitably." Bowman Elder, former president of the Indiana Democratic club, gave public expression to similar opinion.

With the development of a partisan struggle, little discussion was had on the merits of the reformatory program. This phase, however, was emphasized by a statement joined in by both the Democratic and Republican members of the board of trustees, who showed that building costs cited by opponents of the reformatory as outstanding examples of substantial and economical construction, exceeded those of the reformatory.

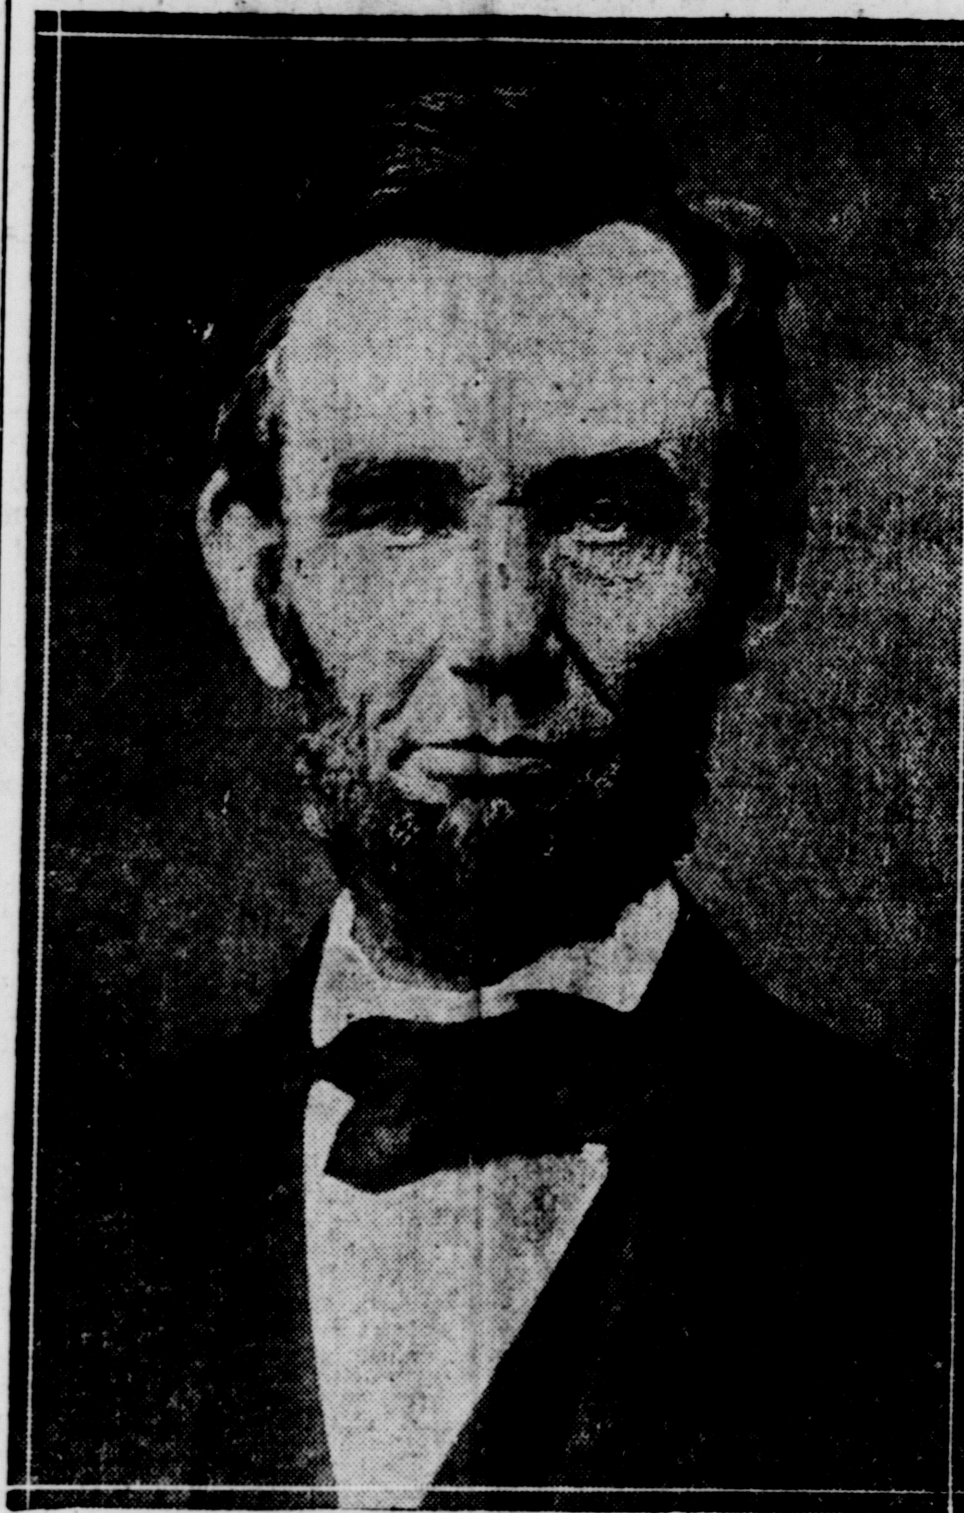

For instance, the trustees showed that the average cost of the reformatory buildings was 26.1 cents a cubic foot, and not 40 cents as complained of by the Democratic legislators; that the power plant, complete with equipment, would cost $247,256.90 instead of $460,000 as the opposition legislators asserted; that a group of buildings would cost $224,464.80 instead of $350,000 as the critics claimed, and the reformatory was absorbing the entire output of penal farm brick instead of using none as the critics sought to lead the public to believe.

The significance of the $2,000,000 appropriation to complete the reformatory was pointed out as its effect on the taxpayer. "What does a $2,000,000 appropriation mean in taxes," asked the trustees. "It means $1.88 out of each $100.00 to be collected in 1923. A taxpayer whose property has an assessed valuation of $5,000.00 would pay $1.92 as his part of the reformatory appropriation."

Incidentally, the trustees neglected to state that had the new reformatory not been built that an expenditure of at least $1,000,000 would have been necessary at the old institution at Jeffersonville because of the fire that wiped out many of the buildings and workshops.

In its consideration of the budget bill, the House trimmed the reformatory appropriation to $1,500,000, but Governor McCray announced

STORE WINDOW LOCK BROKEN

Burglars Evidently Frightened Away
From The Mauzy Co.

An effort was made to enter the Mauzy company's store, corner of Third and Main streets, some time Thursday night or Friday morning, it became known today.

A lock on one of the windows opening into the alley at the rear of the building had been broken and the burglars apparently had free access to the building, but there was no evidence of them having entered.

It is presumed that they were frightened away soon after the window was opened.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Turkey has 120,000 troops in the Near East while the British army forces there 12,300 Indian and native troops, a total only about 39,000 including cording to the United States government information.

Soviet Russia has about 120,000 men in the Caucasus, which could be quickly moved to the support of the Turks in event of war between Turkey and Russia on one side and Great Britain on the other.

There are in Thrace 70,000 Greek troops who would fight on the side of the British. The British fleet in the Near East comprises ten battleships, ten light cruisers and four large destroyer flotillas besides auxiliaries. The Americans have in those waters the flagship Vicksburg and 22 destroyers.

TO GIVE WOMEN AN EQUAL CHANCE

Bill Pending Before Legislature
Puts New Voters in Same Position as Men

IN PARTY ORGANIZATIONS

Would Reorganize Party Machinery
From Precinct Committeemen to
The State Committee

If a bill pending before the state legislature in Indianapolis becomes a law, the Rush county political machinery will be completely reorganized, because it seeks to amend the present election law to insure equal representation for men and women in all political organizations.

This measure, which is familiarly known as the "fifty-fifty" bill, would reorganize political party machinery from the precinct committeemen on up to the state committeemen by providing that for every place now held by a man there should be an equal place for a woman. Thus under the terms of the bill "a person having the largest number of votes cast for the office of precinct committeemen at an election shall be the chairman and the person of the sex opposite to the person elected chairman and receiving the largest number of votes cast shall be vice-chairman." The bill also provides that the state committee of both parties shall be doubled in number and that instead of having thirteen district chairmen there shall be twenty-six, thirteen women and thirteen men, on the state committee of each party.

Both the Richards and the Perkins bills were drawn by Miss Helen Bainbridge, of Terre Haute, member of the Republican committee of Vigo county, and Miss Betsy Edwards, of Indianapolis, for several years an employee of the Republican national committee. Miss Edwards and Miss Bainbridge, who are members of the league, have given the subject special study and have drawn their bill after intensive inspection of the laws of those states that give women equal rights with men in party organizations. Among these states that provide for equal representation are Massachusetts, Maine, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and New Mexico.

"Experience has taught that if women have an equal position with the men in the political party organizations they are able to learn the

TWO OF 122 MINERS IN MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Dawson Hears From Lips Of Charles
Kantal And Feline Martini
Story Of Mine Disaster

KEEP GRIM VIGIL 16 HOURS

By FRANK H. BARTHELEMEW
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

(Copyright, 1923, by United Press)
Dawson, N. Mex., Feb. 10.—Dawson today heard from the lips of Charles Kantal and Feline Martini, miners who walked miraculously as though guided by a divine hand from their tomb a "mile below sunshine," the story of the mine disaster in which 122 men were trapped.

Kantal and Martini for 16 hours kept a grim vigil in charnal shaft of Phelps-Dodge No. 1 mine near where 120 of their comrades also imprisoned, lay dead and dying or waiting for the air to be pumped in.

It seemed that all the pathos of the Dawson tragedy centered about the little box-like Kantal home today. Weeping women and wide eyed children gathered around Kantal and Martini to hear about the fate of the others entombed. Mrs. Kantal smiled in thanksgiving.

She tried to comfort women who came to him with the fearfully spoken question:

"Did you see my man down there?"
The miner, his face begrimed, gesturing with his gnarled hands told his story to the United Press in broken English. He held his two boys close.

TO GIVE WOMEN AN EQUAL CHANCE

meaning of suffrage far better," Miss Edwards said. "It teaches them responsibility in party matters and teaches them the practical side of politics as nothing else can do. Enemies of this bill have said the measure would mean that women will have a separate organization from the men. This is absolutely false. Nobody would object to a separate political party organization for women more than members of the league. Other persons say the women would displace the men in running the party politics if such a bill became a law. I do not believe that women have had sufficient experience as yet to displace men on committees."

The Indiana bill, according to Miss Edwards, is drawn almost directly after the New Jersey law, which has been the model for all legislation along these lines throughout the country.

The measure starts with the reorganization of the precinct committeemen, goes on through the county to the district and state organization. "It is the most talked of measure this year for the women and the measure on which we get most inquiries," said Mrs. Walter S. Greenough, of Indianapolis, president of the league. The measure has received the support of the efficiency in government committee of the league of which Miss Sara Lauter, of Indianapolis, is chairman.

WANDA HAWLEY ASKS DIVORCE

A DOUBLE MEANING

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 10.—Applications for jobs in the prohibition department pour in upon federal officials in a steady stream. One received by District Attorney Homer Elliott, left him puzzled as to just what the applicant was qualified to do. It read:

WANT MEN TO CUT WOOD

Kokomo, Ind., Feb. 10.—Farmers around Kokomo want men to cut wood. O. C. Phillips examiner of the free employment bureau here, said today that wood is becoming cheaper fuel than coal and the farmers cannot cut it rapidly enough. Coal is selling at $11 a ton here and wood at $2 $3.50 to $4.00 a cord. One farmer asked Phillips to send him ten or twelve men and offered to transport them to and from work.

Warsaw, Ind., Feb. 10.—Several hundred more men will be given employment as a result of plans of officials of the Braude-Pierce Furniture Company to construct an addition to the factory. The new building will give the concern 32,000 feet additional floor space.

THE END OF ENMITY:
When a man's ways please the Lord,
he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.—Proverbs 16: 7.

County Health Nurses

Indiana is an island in the Middle West.

Neighboring states—Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin—have lowered their death rate from tuberculosis to a point lower than that of Indiana.

In each of these states county public health nurses are busy teaching people not only how to get well but how to keep well in the first place. They are protecting the health of the whole community, saving thousands of dollars at the expense of a few hundreds. They are doing this for Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin because the state law enables counties to provide this service.

But Indiana is an island. We have not clearly defined state law today which enables counties to establish such service. Private organizations such as the Red Cross or the Tuberculosis Association are supporting public health nurses in many counties, but the public is not paying its due share of the cost.

In Rush county, the county nurse is supported by the Rush county chapter of the Red Cross, and in the city the visiting nurse is supported by the Rushville Woman's Council, partly with funds provided by the sale of Christmas Seals. There is a strong probability that the county nurse will not be engaged again if some means is not provided from taxes. The revenue of the Red Cross has been gradually diminished each year until it is said that the chapter can not see its way clear to employ a nurse again after the end of the present school year.

According to Senate Bill No. 99, which has passed the Senate and is now before the House of Representatives, having been approved by the house committee on health and medicine, any county which so desires may create an advisory council on public health, an unsalaried group, which may engage a public health nurse for the county. In no case does this measure seek to compel a county, to establish health service, where the expense does, not seem justifiable or the need for it not clear. But where a county does feel convinced that this is the best way to protect the good health of its residents, the legal door is opened.

Cost of this service, its advocates point out, is slight in comparison with benefits to be derived. Even in the first year, with expenses higher than they will be later, the budget need not exceed $2500, and in some cases it can be less. To treat one crippled child in time, or to care for one incipient sufferer from tuberculosis before it is too late, thus saving the patient from becoming a public charge, may save the county more than the cost of one year's nursing service.

Rural districts, remote from hospitals and clinics, are particularly necessary fields of public health activity. Indiana needs such a nurse for the rural districts and the small villages. Mothers and small babies and school children and tubercular persons are the first objects of the nurse's concern. By examining school children she can take measures to prevent the epidemics which so often force schools to close temporarily. Children who need hospital treatment can be sent to the proper institution. Mothers can be instructed in the best way to feed their children.

None of this service is to be forced upon the individual, for if he notifies the nurse of his objections she will not attempt to deal with him. Nor is it to be forced on the county. This is a matter of county choice. Every endeavor is being made by the sponsors of the bill to safeguard it from political, economic, or personal abuse.

Organizations like the state Parent-Teachers Association, Indiana Nurses' Association, Indiana Federation of Women's Clubs, Indiana Child Welfare Association, Indiana Committee on Social Legislation, and Indiana Tuberculosis Association, are joining to support this bill and to urge every citizen interested in public health to get favorable action upon it through his representative in the legislature.

The Hodge-Podge

By a Paragrapher with a Soul

All those who wish to kill a bill before the legislature need to do is raise the hue and cry that it will increase taxes.

Safety Sam's Sermonette

With legislatures in session all over th' country, we needn't be s'prised t' see a swell mess-o' bills blossom' out into laws in th' near future. It's only logical t' expect th' customary output o' pet measures, intended t' regulate everything from th' wheelbases o' baby carriages t' takin' soup with th' muffler open. About every second feller we meet has got some pet hobby about a law he thinks, is needed an' we can gener'ly agree they oughta be passed; that is, passed up.

We're gettin' so used to it now that it wouldn't faze us t' hear of a law that'd make it a felony t' raise th' baby on a bottle, for fear o' th' moral effect, or a measure prohibitin' films showin' fat movie actors.

Up t' this time, however, it still remains for some inspired legislator t' present a bill requirin' th' operators of all railway conveyances t' stop at each an' every street or highway an' send a college graduate ahead t' look and listen for automobiles or Fords which might be approachin'. This would make it possible for said motorists t' save quite a bit o' gas an' also energy shiftin' gears, while th' savin' in funeral expenses aint t' be sneezed at, either. O' course, it'd interfere some with railway schedules, but what's a schedule, compared with th' Urge that drives autoists up to an' over crossin's of all kinds at airplane speed!

John McCarty, an old Rushville boy, was here today visiting friends. For ten years he has been a resident of Philadelphia, Penn., but he is wide awake for a denizen of the "sleepy burg." Mr. McCarty is now touring Indiana securing talent for the Hartig and Seaman Carnival Company of New York City, the largest carnival company ever organized.

Congressman James E. Watson has presented to the Graham high school a fine book, entitled "The Life of John Paul Jones," including the story of the return of his remains to this country, and an account of the ceremonies in honor of the noted seaman. Hon. J. K. Gowdy presented two medallions, one to the Graham school and another to the Jackson school. The medallion has on one side the bust of John Paul Jones and on the other the famous flagship of Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kramer, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Feudner, Mr. and Mrs. John Kiplinger and Mrs. V. B. Canfield of Aurora saw "The Yankee Regent" at the Auditorium, Connersville, last night.

Miss Hazel Innis of North Morgan street has returned home from

The dispersing of members of Watson Beauty Bunch is now under way. As a result Miss Mollie Mock is now employed in the auditor's office of the I. & C. traction general officers here and Miss Nancy Hogsett went to the insurance offices of Folsom, the "talk it over" man. Nearly all the other girls have offers under consideration—offers of position, of course.

Income Tax Facts

NO. 9.

Under certain conditions living quarters, food, clothing, etc., provided employees are not regarded as income. Where for example, because of the location and nature of the work it is necessary that employees engaged in fishing, logging, or canning be furnished board and lodging by their employer, such board and lodging are considered as contributed for the convenience of the employer. Therefore, its value need not be included in computing the net income of the employee. The rule applies to board and lodging furnished seamen.

The value of board and lodging furnished hospital employees is to be returned as income unless the employee is subject to duty at any time during the 24 hours of a day and therefore is required to accept quarters and meals at the hospitals in addition to his regular compensation.

The rental of a dwelling "and apartments thereof" furnished a minister of the gospel was exempted by the revenue act of 1921, and no longer needs to be included in gross income.

Certain items, as shown on forms for making the returns, are specifically exempt from the income tax, such as proceeds of life insurance policies, amounts received through accident or health insurance, value of property acquired by gift, bequest, descent, or devise, interest received on State and certain Federal bonds, amounts received as compensation, under the provisions of the war risk insurance and vocational rehabilitation acts, pensions for military or naval service in time of war, etc.

RUSHVILLE NOSED OUT BY ONE POINT

Cathedral High School of Indianapolis Comes From Behind in Last Half and Wins

OUTCLASSED FIRST HALF

One Field Goal and Foul Best They Could Do—Locals Make One Field Goal Last Half

The Rushville high school basketball team, after maintaining a comfortable lead, 10 to 3 at the end of the first half, was headed in the last half, and the Cathedral high school team of Indianapolis walked away with the game in the last few minutes of play, winning by one point, 16 to 15.

Each team fought hard at all times during the game, and the defense put up by each side, would not permit much scoring. The Cathedral team never gave up fighting, although odds were against them at the start of the second period.

At the start of the game, on the first tip off, Cathedral fouled, and Phillips missed the first chance to score. The two teams fought hard during the next few minutes, and Royse for the visitors had three opportunities to score on fouls, but could not connect.

It was five minutes before Riley for Cathedral broke through for a basket from the field, but Phillips tied the score on two fouls. Phillips put Rushville in the lead two points when he later broke through for a field goal, and from this time on, Rushville maintained a lead, until the last few minutes of the game.

During the first half the visitors scored their three points from one field goal and a foul, while Rushville made 3 field goals and 4 fouls.

At the start of the last half Kelly for Cathedral put in a two point ringer with a Rushville player hanging on, and the visiting team added one point on the foul, making the score 10 to 6, and when Kelly repeated with two more field goals, the score was tied at 10 points.

During the first few minutes of the second half Cathedral outplayed Rushville, and were determined to tie up the contest. The locals were guarded so closely that they could not work the ball closer than the center of the floor, and many long passes were intercepted by the visitors, who were continually breaking up plays.

Walker for Rushville put his team in the front with a field goal, but the lead was soon overcome again when Royse tied the count again. Phillips anchored a foul that again gave Rushville the margin, and he repeated with another chance, putting the locals at 14 with Cathedral at 12.

As the two teams fought to a standstill for the next few minutes, another foul was called on the visiting team, and Phillips made one out of two chances, putting Rushville at 15, and Cathedral at 12.

Kelly made good on a foul, and soon made another one count, boosting the visitors to within one point, 15 to 14. Three minutes remained to be played, but Kelly broke through for a basket at close range, and the visitors had the one point advantage, 16 to 15. During the last two minutes of play Rushville made many shots at the net in an effort to put in the winning goal, but it seemed impossible. Cartmel, playing at back guard, took a couple of shots from the center of the floor, and each one almost went through, and several other players had a chance to score, but the ball wouldn't connect safely.

The line-up and summary:

KEEP STILL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Feb. 10—Ethics of practically all amateur and professional sports make it bad form to talk about or criticize an opponent. It's not always the case, but it is the rule now.

Even among the boxers, where the lowest type can be found, the unwritten law is to keep still if you can't say something nice.

One of the little traits very becoming in Jack Dempsey is the magnanimous way in which he always refers to other boxers. He boasts everything and everyone and it never has cost him a friend.

Benny Leonard, a good representative of the higher type in the ring, does a lot of talking about his opponents, but Benny does it to stir up interest in his business.

Baseball players are the most careful of all the professional athletes in refraining from conversation about other players.

None of them think very much of Babe Ruth, but you never could get them to say it.

During the last world's series, several prominent players were given lucrative offers by a press association to write an expert analysis of each game, telling how it was won and lost. They all refused on the grounds that it would require them to comment on the work of other players and it was against their "principles".

College and university men should be expected to have "better sense" than to talk about each other and those in track and field athletics are for the most part gentlemanly even if they do remark occasionally about the speed that California air puts in a sprinter.

EVANSVILLE FIVE BEARS WATCHING

Central High School, Conquerors of "Invincible" Vincennes, May Cope The State

HAS A "PLACE IN THE SUN"

By COTTON HUGHES
(Written for United Press)
Evansville, Ind., Feb. 10—Have you heard of Evansville Central's basketball team stoppin' 'em in 1923. Central has bagged several straights.

Up until 1923, Central has won its district meets—it always does—and went to the state tourney without any great sensation. Maybe they won their first game at the state and maybe Sandusky knocked them off.

But Central will bear watching this year as a contender for the state basketball title, experts aver.

Central's squad is built around two three-year veterans of basketball. Captain Billy Allen and Gil Plentke have been on the team since freshmen and are mean twins to play against.

The rest of the youngsters are fast and plucky. The team was late in getting started after football, but once underway they were ready to fight for the state title.

The team probably will reach the state meet with its record clean or nearly so. Central has been underestimated by some teams that have fallen under the fast offense.

Vincennes "Fighting Five" fell after an unbroken string of nearly 100 victories. Central had not been put in a class with Vincennes and the game proved to critics that Central has "a place in the sun" in the fight for state championship.

MORRISTOWN DEFEATED

The Waldron high school basketball team staged a whirlwind attack on the Morristown team Friday night in a game played on the Blue Ridge floor, and the final count was 24 to 9. The game was fast, with Morristown fighting all of the time in an effort to win out. Halbert Brown of Rushville acted as the official.

MILROY IN SLOW START, WINS

Defeats Raleigh, 31 To 20. After Visitors Take The Lead

Milroy high school defeated Raleigh on the Milroy floor Friday evening, 31 to 20 after getting a slow start. Raleigh started off in whirlwind fashion and began bombarding the basket in championship style, piling in four field goals and counting eight points before the home team had even had a chance to get their bearings.

Once under way, however the Milroy basketballers were not to be denied and they ran up a lead which they maintained until the end of the game. The score at half time was 17 to 12.

The Milroy high school girls defeated the Rushville high school girls in an opener, 11 to 6.

The drawing for the Carthage invitational tourney which is being held today at that place, was made this morning and the teams got under way on time, with three counties represented, Decatur, Rush and Hancock.

The three main contenders were and Greensburg. Judging from the pointed out to be Manilla, Carthage drawing this morning Manilla would not have much trouble in reaching the final game tonight.

On the other side of the drawing, it appeared to lie between Carthage and Greensburg who were almost certain to meet this afternoon in the semi-finals, placing one of those teams against Manilla.

The officials for the games were A. C. Woods and H. E. Meyers of Indianapolis referee and umpire alternating Van Hood, timer; Russell Publow scorer.

A record crowd was expected to be on hand as the tourney progressed, and each school was expected to be well represented with rooters.

Hittin' 'Em and Missin' 'Em

AS WE HAVE SAID BEFORE

Just as Hittin' 'em has said before. When Rushville gets a lead, they don't know how to keep it going, and generally slow up long enough to let the visiting team catch up, and in the game last night, it proved fatal.

Someone remarked last night that Rushville had won their last game this year, when they defeated Manilla in the tourney last Saturday. Three hard games remain, Terre Haute, Anderson and Elwood. It all depends on the drawing in the sectional, just how many more games Rushville can win. Why don't you basket tossers surprise the fans, and show 'em that you can beat one of those three big Ten teams. It can be done.

WHAT WE NEED IS A KELLY

Good teams seem to have a mania for Kellys. Whiteland had a long shot artist by that name, and then last night Cathedral had a Kelly, who won the game for 'em. Coach Jones better look around Rushville for a Kelly.

WE'RE PICKING GREENSBURG TO WIN THE TOURNNEY AT CARTHAGE TODAY.

The following from the Arlington Athletic club, may be some help in explaining their version of the Shelbyville-Arlington affair, the other night:

"The Shelbyville Elks were telling us they would win handily by at least 15 points. They played a fast clean game, but they lost and lost according to rules. Anyone not satisfied with the results may ask anyone present or the referee: Melvin Henley, the Shelbyville scorer; Frank Lawrence, time keeper; or R. M. Hutchinson, Arlington scorer. The Arlington club welcomes any investigation of facts."

THE COLTS HAVE THE EDGE ON 'EM

Although Dailey was off of the second team last night, the Colts didn't have much trouble in beating New Salem by 15 points. Last Saturday in the tourney Moscow only defeated New Salem 12 points, which only goes to show, Steve, old top, that we still believe that your team has the edge over all the rest of 'em. At least, Steve, the dope gives your second team a few points advantage over the first squad.

If it wasn't for the second team this year, we don't believe the crowds would have held out as long as they did. You can generally bank on 'em winning their game.

HATTIE, FROM SHELBYVILLE, WRITES US A LETTER

Hattie Havens, RFD 2, Shelbyville, Ind., telephone number 939-2, has directed to Hittin' 'em a lengthy letter, which we gladly submit, and if our wife wouldn't object we'd call her up and kid her a little, but if anyone else wants to talk to her, after readin' what she says, go to it. Her letter is as follows:

"I am in a rather good humor just now, and thought I would make a call on you while it lasts, whether its welcome or not. Your article was headed in large letters, 'Shelbyville is still crying about something.' Hot dog! Its a grand and glorious feeling. Franklin returned home with the victory in the hands of Shelby, Muncie returned home after the Muncie-Shelbyville game Friday, February 2 with another scalp tied to Shelby's belt—Coach Thomas Campbell is the BEST basketball coach in the state and the Rushville or rather Rush county boys got their basketball education from the good old Shelbyville high school.

"If those two Rush county boys had been unfortunate so much as to collect their B. B. spirit from Rushville and the county, 9 times out of 10 they wouldn't know now any more than the rest of Rush county teams. They would have lacked the long basket shooting which counts highly to the credit of the Shelby team. Rushville has a team that is composed of good looking men and Shelby has material—Shelby is composed of much better material for basketball, then too, it counts largely of spirit and pep. From all fans, students and Shelby people they all turn out for their devoted team. That's what it takes to win a game. The boys can not do it alone. They gotta have support, and anyone that knows anything about a game knows its got to have a coach, and supporters."

Then following with some more, she continues "Wait until the Shelby tournament. I will be there with bells on, and the best yell leader that ever yelled at a tournament will be there with smiles. And all Shelby people will be there. We will show our appreciation by yelling so hard that even Rushville will hear us and tremble! Why all this crying tho? O we're happy the way Shelbyville buried Muncie, Hurrah!

"Here is the trouble right now Rushville, don't be shocked or surprised for I don't see how you could. Any old day in the week that Moscow played Shelby—Shelby would have the game won, understand? W O N, before Moscow could get started. In fact if Moscow could find the basket and ball, it would be after Shelby or some kind person placed a bell on it, so they could find where the ball was.

"If you wish to know more about the basketball—concerning old Shelby, just call me by phone, 939-2.

Miss Hattie Havens,
R. R. 2, Shelbyville, Ind.

WE GOT YOU ALL FIGURED OUT, HATTIE

Gee, Hattie, we though you said in the beginning that you were in a good humor. We don't know you, but we would almost make a wager. You are either in love with one of those Homer players, or else you think a whole lot of the yell leader. We can just picture you now, sitting on the bleachers, hollerin' your head off, squealing every time the ball is in Shelby's hands. How do you stand the excitement, and how can you manage to have to wait a whole week for the games to come. But even yet, Hittin' 'em can't figure out, WHY IS SHELBY CRYING?

LET'S MOVE THE STATE HOUSE TO SHELBY

To hear Hattie talk, you would think that Muncie was Vincennes, and that Rushville was equal to that Passaic, N. J. team.

Even after all of the lecturing from Hattie, we're still pickin' Anderson—NOT SHELBYVILLE.

100 WAYS To Make Money

By BILLY WINNER

If I Were a Housekeeper—

I WOULD be the best little home manager ever! I would show friend husband a few things about making money, without starting capital, that would surprise him.

I would buy new furniture with old. I would, if I employed a maid, always have a competent one.

I would sell a lot of things in my house that we no longer wanted—maybe a chair or a table or a rug or a bed. Possibly an old trunk, a used gown, crockery, old paper, a worn-out stove or even a discarded lawn mower.

I would do these things and many more on the tiniest investment imaginable, probably figured in cents instead of dollars. In other words, I'd invest in Daily Republican Want Ads.

AGAINST COUNTY UNIT BILL

Officers of the Union Township association of the Rush County Farm Bureau called attention today to the fact that their association also had gone on record at a recent meeting against the county unit school bill. Another resolution adopted also favored the gasoline tax provided taxes to a similar amount were taken off the revenue of the state highway commission.

clude all territory affected by the drain.

It will be recalled that the branch, which is located in the northwest part of Rushville, has caused much high water in severe rainy weather, and that property owners petitioned the council about a year ago for the improvement.

The council had three plans of procedure, either to construct the ditch as a city unit, issuing bonds for the improvement, or to tax people in the city whose property was affected by the improvement, or to tax the entire land affected, which included territory outside of the corporation.

The council decided that the farm lands north of Rushville would be affected, and decided upon this plan which made it necessary to take it to the circuit court in order to secure legal right to tax the outside lands.

VALUE OF GARDEN PLANNING

Fireside gardening, or more literally speaking in these more modern days, radiator gardening, is one of the most popular of winter pastimes and steadily growing in popularity. It is the season for it now. It consists of dreaming and making your garden on paper.

Half the success of gardening depends upon a proper plan. Of course it is possible to make a reasonably good garden by going at it with nothing but the ground and a supply of seeds before you, but if a plan is drawn and you know just exactly what and how much you are going to plant, and just where in your garden patch you are going to plant it you have a working basis that will save a great amount of time and labor and produce considerable economy in production. And besides, how much better looking!

Take a tape measure (the fifty-foot tapes sold in reels at hardware stores are the most convenient) and measure the length and width of the plot you have set aside for a garden. Make a plan of the same proportions to scale on paper.

Mark down the places on the plotted garden where you expect to plant the different vegetables. Straight rows north and south are best and much easier to care for than square or oblong beds. They also make succession and companion planting easier.

Allow for the proper spacing between the rows and mark each row for the vegetable you intend to plant there.

The minimum space between rows is usually determined by the cultivating tools you use. For a wheel hoe, 12 to 18 inches is the usual allowance. Make it just right for a thorough job of cultivating with one trip down the aisle. Where horse cultivators are used, 3 feet is the minimum distance. In general, the closer the rows the richer the soil should be, or the more heavily fertilized. The distance between plants in the row will vary with the plants. Catalogues and packets give this data usually. In some cases, as with corn, cabbages, cauliflower, the larger head lettuce and the vine crops, extra width between rows must be allowed because of the needs of the plant. If rows are planted too closely it becomes a difficult task to hoe and keep them weeded.

When you come to transfer your plan, follow it strictly and do not be tempted to make the rows closer together because the tiny plants seem so lonesomely far apart or the tiny seeds don't look as if they would ever grow to fill the space allotted. They make a fast growth if given half a chance and will have none too much room. Remember that they need even more room underground to forage for food with the widely extended and fine root systems than they need above ground for their leaves and stems.

that this amount would be insufficient to complete the work, and added that he would seek a restoration of the $2,000,000 appropriation in the senate. Besides the reformatory item, the budget bill carries $14,000,000 for the expenses of the state institutions, and other branches of the state government for the next two years. Few changes of importance, except that of the reformatory, were made by the House in its consideration of the bill.

When the budget is out of the way next week, the House is expected to turn attention to several administrative measures that are ready for action, with minor legislation coming for disposition at odd times. The Senate, being ahead of the House in its work, will turn to the budget bill as soon as it receives the measure.

House leaders also indicated today that they expected to take up during the next week of the bills dealing with increased automobile license fees and the gasoline tax. These measures are designed to produce the revenue for state highway construction and result in the discard of the present general property tax for road building. Favorable action on these measures, Gov. McCray has indicated, would cut more than $1,500,000 off the taxpayers' bill every year, and incidentally place the burden of road building on those who use the roads.

The soldier bonus and the bill to prohibit commercialized sports on Memorial Day also are awaiting House action, and are scheduled for early action there.

HOUSE OF DAVID IS BEHIND ITS "KING"

Fight To Evade Appearing in Court
As Witness in $800,000 Suit
Brought By Two Followers

SISTERS SEEK TO GET LAND

Benton Harbor, Mich., Feb. 10.—The House of David was solidly behind its "king" today in his fight to evade appearing in court as a witness in the $800,000 suit brought against him by two former followers. Leaders met here to pass a vote of confidence in their chief and consider plans for his defense.

The court at Paw Paw will decide on February 18 whether King Benjamin Purnell will have to appear or not.

The suit filed by Mrs. Ruth Bamford Reed and Mrs. Gladys Bamford Habel, sisters, seek to recover certain lands alleged to have been turned over to Purnell by their parents.

Mrs. Reed in an affidavit alleged King Benjamin forced her parents to give up the lands when they journeyed to Benton Harbor from Australia to join in the sect.

She also charged Purnell and others with immoral practices and alleged she and her sister with 24 other young girls were forced to marry men they did not know.

"The word of Purnell is the word of God to his followers and they must all obey," Mrs. Reed declared.

unrealized brotherhood. What we need is not so much a Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers, but a brotherhood of trainmen, conductors, shopmen, ticket agents, track men, passengers and general public. We need not only a brotherhood of the Anglo Saxon race, but of the Mongolian race, of those of every other race including the Irish, and the Germans, and the Italian and the English. God made of one blood all nations. Lack of this brotherhood is the cause of all wars, of all the industrial strife, of every law suit, and of all the wrongs and injustices. Christ came to found a brotherhood of all men.

"Fourth—Our faith is founded on the fact of an unsatisfied hope, he said. The speaker illustrated the unsatisfactory nature of worldly hope by showing how it had failed in the case of individuals. Goetzus sought for wealth, but it did not satisfy. Alexander was still unsatisfied after conquering the world. Even Solomon was constrained to say near the end of his life "All is vanity and a chasing after wind."

"Fifth—Our faith is based on the fact of a sure salvation. These other facts only pave the way for this one. It in turn is based on promise, asserted the preacher, citing many, "Whosoever will may come and take of the water of life freely." "Whosoever calleth on the name of the Lord shall be saved." "The Son of Man has power on earth to forgive sins." "Man, the friendless may find the strong arms of the Saviour about him." "Call you no longer servants but friends." Man, the hopeless looks into the shining face of his Lord and he is enabled to say, "I can do all things through him who strengtheneth me." The diligent man can say, "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth."

Judge Sparks Indicates That He Will Find for Defense in Hodges Branch Petition

HEARING IN CIRCUIT COURT

Effort of Council to Improve Branch is Attacked on Ground That it Was Illegally Certified

The struggle of the city council in their attempt to improve Hodges Branch, by enclosing it with a 5 1/2 foot concrete sewer, was believed lost again, when the plea in abatement filed by remonstrators was heard this morning in the circuit court, and intimated by Judge Sparks as being good, although he stated that no record would be made of it until Monday.

The sewer improvement, which was thrown out of court once before because of an error in defining the boundary lines which were said to be affected by the water shed, was attacked again in the plea in abatement, on grounds that the city council had not acted in a legal manner in certifying the case to the circuit court.

The records of the city council were introduced as evidence, and there was nothing in them to show that the city council had acted on the plans, after the city engineer had drawn up, or had approved of them being filed in the circuit court.

The remonstrators maintained that the boundary lines set out in the list, were not sufficient in determining who would be assessed outside of the city limits, or what extent the territory would be taken in, that would be affected.

The main point of contention, and upon which the plea in abatement was intimated as being sustained by the court, was that the facts in the case and all necessary manner of proceedings with the case, had not been properly taken care of, and acted upon as the council as a body but had been approved and presented by the city engineer.

By sustaining the plea in abatement, it will mean that the case goes back to the city council, and that it will be necessary to proceed again, if the matter is to be assessed to in-

DEBT LEGISLATION HITS SNAG IN SENATE

Plans Of Leaders To Report Measure Were Upset By Senators Who Demanded Full Hearings

PASSAGE OF BILL PREDICTED

Washington, Feb. 10.—Debt funding legislation which would enable this government to consummate the agreement with Great Britain struck a snag in the senate finance committee.

Plans of administration leaders to report the measure were upset today by Senators La Follette of Wisconsin and Walsh of Massachusetts, who demanded full hearings on the bill. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was summoned to appear before the committee today.

Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee and Representative Collier, Mississippi, ranking Democrat, agreed to divide four hours general debate on the bill.

Democratic leaders indicated objections to some of the negotiations. The house passed the bill late Friday, 291 to 44, and it now goes to the senate.

Representative London, New York, the only Socialist member of the House, said he rejoiced at the opportunity afforded him to support a measure which would "promote world peace."

"I am in such thorough sympathy with the great majority of the members of the House in this matter," he said, "that I am beginning to doubt whether I am right."

One Republican, McCormick of Montana, and forty-three Democrats opposed the settlement while 227 Republicans, sixty-three Democrats and one Socialist member voted for it.

RICHARD CRAWFORD DEAD

Expires at Home of His Son at Age of 78 Years

Richard Crawford, age 78 years, died this morning about 7:40 o'clock at the home of his son, Otis Crawford, 333 East Tenth street, where he had made his home for several years. The deceased had been a long sufferer with dropsy. Besides the son here, he also is survived by a daughter, May Nading of Columbus, who was adopted by Mr. Nading of that city.

The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence and burial will be made in East Hill cemetery.

POLITICAL FIGHT HOLDS THE STAGE

Battle of House Democrats Against Appropriation to Finish Reformatory Ineffective

ADVANCED TOWARDS PASSAGE

Expected to be Sent to Senate Early Next Week—Trustees Show Economy of The Plan

Indianapolis, Ind. Feb. 10.—A political fight by House Democrats on the appropriation to complete the new reformatory at Pendleton was the center of the legislative stage for the last week. Despite the Democrats' obstructive tactics, the budget bill, which includes the reformatory appropriation, was advanced toward passage, and it is expected to be sent to the Senate early next week.

In a nutshell, the motive back of the fight was exposed by a Democratic leader, John W. Holtzman of this city, who volunteered the statement that those most familiar with the work said the cost would be $2,000,000, and those opposed favored $750,000, and Mr. Holtzman added "there can be no such discrepancy and have the buildings put up suitably." Bowman Elder, former president of the Indiana Democratic club, gave public expression to similar opinion.

With the development of a partisan struggle, little discussion was had on the merits of the reformatory program. This phase, however, was emphasized by a statement joined in by both the Democratic and Republican members of the board of trustees, who showed that building costs cited by opponents of the reformatory as outstanding examples of substantial and economical construction, exceeded those of the reformatory.

For instance, the trustees showed that the average cost of the reformatory buildings was 26.1 cents a cubic foot, and not 40 cents as complained of by the Democratic legislators; that the power plant, complete with equipment, would cost $247,256.90 instead of $400,000 as the opposition legislators asserted; that a group of buildings would cost $224,464.80 instead of $350,000 as the critics claimed, and the reformatory was absorbing the entire output of penal farm brick instead of using none as the critics sought to lead the public to believe.

The significance of the $2,000,000 appropriation to complete the reformatory was pointed out as its effect on the taxpayer. "What does a $2,000,000 appropriation mean in taxes," asked the trustees. "It means $1.88 out of each $100.00 to be collected in 1923. A taxpayer whose property has an assessed valuation of $5,000.00 would pay $1.92 as his part of the reformatory appropriation."

Incidentally, the trustees neglected to state that had the new reformatory not been built at an expenditure of at least $1,000,000 would have been necessary at the old institution at Jeffersonville because of the fire that wiped out many of the buildings and workshops.

In its consideration of the budget bill, the House trimmed the reformatory appropriation to $1,500,000, but Governor McCray announced

Richmond Pastor Cites Sin, Sorrow, Unrealized Brotherhood, Unsatisfied Hope, Salvation

CLOSING SERMON OF SERIES

The Rev. W. McClean Work Returns to Pastorate After Thirteen Days Meeting

The Rev. W. McClean Work, pastor of the Reid Memorial United Presbyterian church of Richmond, who has been conducting a series of meetings at the First United Presbyterian church here for the past thirteen days, delivered his final sermon of the series Friday night on the subject, "The Facts of Faith."

The Rev. Mr. Work made a very fine impression on Rushville people who listened to his sermons and members of the congregation feel that much good will result from the meetings.

His sermon last night was from the text, Romans 5:1, "Being therefore justified by faith we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ." Five facts of faith were selected as having outstanding interest.

"First—Our faith is based on the fact of sin. Christ based his teachings on this fact. It is a reality. Some have denied it, but it is everywhere in evidence. The laws of Moses were given because of sin. The worship of the Old Testament takes account of sin. The life of John Howard was what it was because of the awful conditions of the jails and penitentiaries of the world as he found them. Florence Nightingale spent her life in alleviating the sufferings caused by sin."

"Second—Our faith is based on the fact of sorrow. The antithesis of joy is sorrow. That of happiness is misery. Heaven finds its counterpart in hell. As long as there is aspiration there will be disappointment. Christ came to save men not only from sin but also from sorrow."

"Third—Our faith is based on an

STORE WINDOW LOCK BROKEN TO GIVE WOMEN AN EQUAL CHANCE

Burglars Evidently Frightened Away From The Maury Co.

An effort was made to enter the Maury company's store, corner of Third and Main streets, some time Thursday night or Friday morning, it became known today.

A lock on one of the windows opening into the alley at the rear of the building had been broken and the burglars apparently had free access to the building, but there was no evidence of them having entered.

It is presumed that they were frightened away soon after the window was opened.

TURKEY HAS 120,000 TROOPS IN NEAR EAST

U. S. Government Information States British Army Forces There Total About 39,000

U. S. HAS 22 DESTROYERS

By A. L. BRADFORD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 10.—Turkey has 120,000 troops in the Near East while the British army forces there 12,300 Indian and native troops, a total only about 39,000, including according to the United States government information.

Soviet Russia has about 120,000 men in the Caucasus, which could be quickly moved to the support of the Turks in event of war between Turkey and Russia on one side and Great Britain on the other.

There are in Thrace 70,000 Greek troops who would fight on the side of the British. The British fleet in the Near East comprises ten battleships, ten light cruisers and four large destroyer flotillas besides auxiliaries. The Americans have in those waters the flagship Vicksburg and 22 destroyers.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE AT ORANGE POSTPONED

Decided Not To Hold Meeting For Present On Account Of Small-Pox Situation There

APPROXIMATELY 15 CASES

The Orange township (Fayette county) farmers' institute, which was scheduled for next Wednesday at the town of Orange, has been postponed indefinitely on account of the small pox situation in the vicinity of Orange it was announced Friday. The institute was to have been held in the Orange high school building.

There are said to be approximately fifteen cases of this disease in the Orange community, part of which are in Rush county. A few cases of small pox were reported to the Rush county health officer in January, but the situation was not regarded as serious any place in the county.

Dr. R. H. Elliott, Fayette county health officer, issued a statement Friday, urging all school children to be vaccinated. Although the cases so far reported have been mild, there is no indication that they will continue to be health authorities say.

In addition to the situation at Orange, there is one case in East Connersville, one in Connersville and one in Falmouth.

Would Reorganize Party Machinery From Precinct Committeemen to The State Committee

If a bill pending before the state legislature in Indianapolis becomes a law, the Rush county political machinery will be completely reorganized, because it seeks to amend the present election law to insure equal representation for men and women in all political organizations.

This measure, which is familiarly known as the "fifty-fifty" bill, would reorganize political party machinery from the precinct committeemen on up to the state committeemen by providing that for every place now held by a man there should be an equal place for a woman. Thus under the terms of the bill "a person having the largest number of votes cast for the office of precinct committeemen at an election shall be the chairman and the person of the sex opposite to the person elected chairman and receiving the largest number of votes cast shall be vice-chairman." The bill also provides that the state committee of both parties shall be doubled in number and that instead of having thirteen district chairmen there shall be twenty-six, thirteen women and thirteen men, on the state committee of each party.

Both the Richards and the Perkins bills were drawn by Miss Helen Bainbridge, of Terre Haute, member of the Republican committee of Vigo county, and Miss Betsy Edwards, of Indianapolis, for several years an employee of the Republican national committee. Miss Edwards and Miss Bainbridge, who are members of the league, have given the subject special study and have drawn their bill after intensive inspection of the laws of those states that give women equal rights with men in party organizations. Among these states that provide for equal representation are Massachusetts, Maine, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and New Mexico.

"Experience has taught that if women have an equal position with the men in the political party organizations they are able to learn the

TWO OF 122 MINERS IN MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Dawson Hears From Lips Of Charles Kantal And Feline Martini Story Of Mine Disaster

KEEP GRIM VIGIL 16 HOURS

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

(Copyright, 1923, by United Press) Dawson, N. Mex., Feb. 10.—Dawson today heard from the lips of Charles Kantal and Feline Martini, miners who walked miraculously as though guided by a divine hand from their tomb a "mile below sunshine," the story of the mine disaster in which 122 men were trapped.

Kantal and Martini for 16 hours kept a grim vigil in charnal shaft of Phelps-Dodge No. 1 mine near where 120 of their comrades also imprisoned, lay dead and dying or waiting for the air to be pumped in.

It seemed that all the pathos of the Dawson tragedy centered about the little box-like Kantal home today. Weeping women and wide eyed children gathered around Kantal and Martini to hear about the fate of the others entombed. Mrs. Kantal smiled in thanksgiving.

She tried to comfort women who came to him with the fearfully spoken question:

"Did you see my man down there?" The miner, his face begrimed, gesturing with his gnarled hands told his story to the United Press in broken English. He held his two boys close.

TO GIVE WOMEN AN EQUAL CHANCE

meaning of suffrage far better," Miss Edwards said. "It teaches them responsibility in party matters and teaches them the practical side of politics as nothing else can do. Enemies of this bill have said the measure would mean that women will have a separate organization from the men. This is absolutely false. Nobody would object to a separate political party organization for women more than members of the league. Other persons say the women would displace the men in running the party politics if such a bill became a law. I do not believe that women have had sufficient experience as yet to displace men on committees."

The Indiana bill, according to Miss Edwards, is drawn almost directly after the New Jersey law, which has been the model for all legislation along these lines throughout the country.

The measure starts with the reorganization of the precinct committeemen, goes on through the county to the district and state organization. "It is the most talked of measure this year for the women and the measure on which we get most inquiries," said Mrs. Walter S. Greenough, of Indianapolis, president of the league. The measure has received the support of the efficiency in government committee of the league of which Miss Sara Lauter, of Indianapolis, is chairman.

A DOUBLE MEANING

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 10.—Applications for jobs in the prohibition department pour in upon federal officials in a steady stream. One received by District Attorney Homer Elliott, left him puzzled as to just what the applicant was qualified to do. It read:

WANT MEN TO CUT WOOD

Kokomo, Ind., Feb. 10.—Farmers around Kokomo want men to cut wood. O. C. Phillips examiner of the free employment bureau here, said today that wood is becoming cheaper fuel than coal and the farmers cannot cut it rapidly enough. Coal is selling at $11 a ton here and wood at $2 $3.50 to $4.00 a cord. One farmer asked Phillips to send him ten or twelve men and offered to transport them to and from work.

THE END OF ENMITY.—
When a man's ways please the Lord,
he maketh even his enemies to be at
peace with him.—Proverbs 16: 7.

County Health Nurses

• Indiana is an island in the Middle West.

Neighboring states—Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin—have lowered their death rate from tuberculosis to a point lower than that of Indiana.

In each of these states county public health nurses are busy teaching people not only how to get well but how to keep well in the first place. They are protecting the health of the whole community, saving thousands of dollars at the expense of a few hundreds. They are doing this for Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin because the state law enables counties to provide this service.

But Indiana is an island. We have not clearly defined state law today which enables counties to establish such service. Private organizations such as the Red Cross or the Tuberculosis Association are supporting public health nurses in many counties, but the public is not paying its due share of the cost.

In Rush county, the county nurse is supported by the Rush county chapter of the Red Cross, and in the city the visiting nurse is supported by the Rushville Woman's Council, partly with funds provided by the sale of Christmas Seals.
There is a strong probability that the county nurse will not be engaged again if some means is not provided from taxes. The revenue of the Red Cross has been gradually diminished each year until it is said that the chapter can not see its way clear to employ a nurse again after the end of the present school year.

According to Senate Bill No. 99, which has passed the Senate and is now before the House of Representatives, having been approved by the house committee on health and medicine, any county which so desires may create an advisory council on public health, an unsalaried group, which may engage a public health nurse for the county. In no case does this measure seek to compel a county, to establish health service, where the expense does, not seem justifiable or the need for it not clear. But where a county does feel convinced that this is the best way to protect the good health of its residents, the legal door is opened.

Cost of this service, its advocates point out, is slight in comparison with benefits to be derived. Even in the first year, with expenses higher than they will be later, the budget need not exceed $2500, and in some cases it can be less. To treat one crippled child in time, or to care for one incipient sufferer from tuberculosis before it is too late, thus saving the patient from becoming a public charge, may save the county more than the cost of one year's nursing service.

Rural districts, remote from hospitals and clinics, are particularly necessary fields of public health activity. Indiana needs such a nurse for the rural districts and the small villages. Mothers and small babies and school children and tubercular persons are the first objects of the nurse's concern. By examining school children she can take measures to prevent the epidemics which so often force schools to close temporarily.

Children who need hospital treatment can be sent to the proper institution. Mothers can be instructed in the best way to feed their children.

None of this service is to be forced upon the individual, for if he notifies the nurse of his objections she will not attempt to deal with him.

Income Tax Facts

NO. 9.

Under certain conditions living quarters, food, clothing, etc., provided employees are not regarded as income. Where for example, because of the location and nature of the work it is necessary that employees engaged in fishing, logging, or canning be furnished board and lodging by their employer, such board and lodging are considered as contributed for the convenience of the employer. Therefore, its value need not be included in computing the net income of the employee. The rule applies to board and lodging furnished seamen.

The value of board and lodging furnished hospital employees is to be returned as income unless the employee is subject to duty at any time during the 24 hours of a day and therefore is required to accept quarters and meals at the hospitals in addition to his regular compensation.

RUSHVILLE NOSED OUT BY ONE POINT

Cathedral High School of Indianapolis Comes From Behind in Last Half and Wins

One Field Goal and Foul Best They Could Do—Locals Make One Field Goal Last Half

The Rushville high school basketball team, after maintaining a comfortable lead, 10 to 3 at the end of the first half, was headed in the last half, and the Cathedral high school team of Indianapolis walked away with the game in the last few minutes of play, winning by one point, 16 to 15.

Each team fought hard at all times during the game, and the defense put up by each side, would not permit much scoring. The Cathedral team never gave up fighting, although odds were against them at the start of the second period.

At the start of the game, on the first tip off, Cathedral fouled, and Phillips missed the first chance to score. The two teams fought hard during the next few minutes, and Royse for the visitors had three opportunities to score on fouls, but could not connect.

It was five minutes before Riley for Cathedral broke through for a basket from the field, but Phillips tied the score on two fouls. Phillips put Rushville in the lead two points when he later broke through for a field goal, and from this time on, Rushville maintained a lead, until the last few minutes of the game.

During the first half the visitors scored their three points from one field goal and a foul, while Rushville made 3 field goals and 4 fouls.

At the start of the last half Kelly for Cathedral put in a two point ringer with a Rushville player hanging on, and the visiting team added one point on the foul, making the score 10 to 6, and when Kelly repeated with two more field goals, the score was tied at 10 points.

During the first few minutes of the second half Cathedral outplayed Rushville, and were determined to tie up the contest. The locals were guarded so closely that they could not work the ball closer than the center of the floor, and many long passes were intercepted by the visitors, who were continually breaking up plays.

Walker for Rushville put his team in the front with a field goal, but the lead was soon overcome again when Royse tied the count again. Phillips anchored a foul that again gave Rushville the margin, and he repeated with another chance, putting the locals at 14 with Cathedral at 12.

As the two teams fought to a standstill for the next few minutes, another foul was called on the visiting team, and Phillips made one out of two chances, putting Rushville at 15, and Cathedral at 12.

Kelly made good on a foul, and soon made another one count, boosting the visitors to within one point, 15 to 14. Three minutes remained to be played, but Kelly broke through for a basket at close range, and the visitors had the one point advantage, 16 to 15. During the last two minutes of play Rushville made many shots at the net in an effort to put in the winning goal, but it seemed impossible. Cartmel, playing at back guard, took a couple of shots from the center of the floor, and each one almost went through, and several other players had a chance to score, but the ball wouldn't connect safely.

Wainwright at forward, counted 7 times from the field, and he always managed to slip under the basket at the right time. Culp, the other forward, made 4 field goals. K. Wilson, forward on the New Salem team, was the point getter for the visitors, and made 9 of the 17 points.

KEEP STILL

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor) New York, Feb. 10—Ethics of practically all amateur and professional sports make it bad form to talk about or criticize an opponent. It wasn't always the case, but it is the rule now.

Even among the boxers, where the lowest type can be found, the unwritten law is to keep still if you can't say something nice.

One of the little traits very becoming in Jack Dempsey is the magnanimous way in which he always refers to other boxers. He boasts everything and everyone and it never has cost him a friend.

Benny Leonard, a good representative of the higher type in the ring, does a lot of talking about his opponents, but Benny does it to stir up interest in his business.

Baseball players are the most careful of all the professional athletes in refraining from conversation about other players.

None of them think very much of Babe Ruth, but you never could get them to say it.

During the last world's series, several prominent players were given lucrative offers by a press association to write an expert analysis of each game, telling how it was won and lost. They all refused on the grounds that it would require them to comment on the work of other players and it was against their "principles".

College and university men should be expected to have "better sense" than to talk about each other and those in track and field athletics are for the most part gentlemanly even if they do remark occasionally about the speed that California air puts in a sprinter.

freshmen and are mean twins to play against.

The rest of the youngsters are fast and plucky. The team was late in getting started after football, but once underway they were ready to fight for the state title.

The team probably will reach the state meet with its record clean or nearly so. Central has been underestimated by some teams that have fallen under the fast offense.

Vincennes "Fighting Five" fell after an unbroken string of nearly 100 victories. Central had not been put in a class with Vincennes and the game proved to critics that Central has "a place in the sun" in the fight for state championship.

MORRISTOWN DEFEATED

The Waldron high school basketball team staged a whirlwind attack on the Morristown team Friday night in a game played on the Blue Ridge floor, and the final count was 24 to 9. The game was fast, with Morristown fighting all of the time in an effort to win out. Hulbert Brown of Rushville acted as the official.

MILROY IN SLOW START, WINS

Defeats Raleigh, 31 To 20, After Visitors Take The Lead

Milroy high school defeated Raleigh on the Milroy floor Friday evening, 31 to 20 after getting a slow start. Raleigh started off in whirlwind fashion and began bombarding the basket in championship style, piling in four field goals and counting eight points before the home team had even had a chance to get their bearings.

Once under way, however the Milroy basketballers were not to be denied and they ran up a lead which they maintained until the end of the game. The score at half time was 17 to 12.

The Milroy high school girls defeated the Rushville high school girls in an opener, 11 to 6.

The drawing for the Carthage invitational tourney which is being held today at that place, was made this morning and the teams got under way on time, with three counties represented, Decatur, Rush and Hancock.

The three main contenders were and Greensburg. Judging from the pointed out to be Manilla, Carthage drawing this morning Manilla would not have much trouble in reaching the final game tonight.

On the other side of the drawing, it appeared to lie between Carthage and Greensburg who were almost certain to meet this afternoon in the semi-finals, playing one of those teams against Manilla.

The officials for the games were A. C. Woods and H. E. Meyers of Indianapolis referee and umpire alternating Van Hood, timer; Russell Publow scorer.

A record crowd was expected to be on hand as the tourney progressed, and each school was expected to be well represented with rooters.

Hittin' 'Em and Missin' 'Em

AS WE HAVE SAID BEFORE
Just as Hittin' 'em has said before. When Rushville gets a lead, they don't know how to keep it going, and generally slow up long enough to let the visiting team catch up, and in the game last night, it proved fatal.

Someone remarked last night that Rushville had won their last game this year, when they defeated Manilla in the tourney last Saturday. Three hard games remain, Terre Haute, Anderson and Elwood. It all depends on the drawing in the sectional, just how many more games Rushville can win. Why don't you basket tossers surprise the fans, and show 'em that you can beat one of those three big Ten teams. It can be done.

WHAT WE NEED IS A KELLY

Good teams seem to have a mania for Kellys. Whiteland had a long shot artist by that name, and then last night Cathedral had a Kelly, who won the game for 'em. Coach Jones, better look around Rushville for a Kelly.

WE'RE PICKING GREENSBURG TO WIN THE TOURNEY AT CARTHAGE TODAY.

WORD FROM ARLINGTON

Athletic club, may be some help in explaining their version of the Shelbyville-Arlington affair, the other night.

"The Shelbyville Elks were telling us they would win handily by at least 15 points. They played a fast clean game, but they lost and lost according to rules. Anyone not satisfied with the results, may ask anyone present or the referee: Melvin Henley, the Shelbyville scorer; Frank Lawrence, time keeper; or R. M. Hutchinson, Arlington scorer. The Arlington club welcomes any investigation of facts."

THE COLTS HAVE THE EDGE ON 'EM

Although Dailey was off of the second team last night, the Colts didn't have much trouble in beating New Salem by 15 points. Last Saturday in the tourney, Moscow, only defeated New Salem 12 points, which only goes to show, Steve, old top, that we still believe that your team has the edge over all the rest of 'em. At least, Steve, the dope gives your second team a few points advantage over the first squad.

If it wasn't for the second team this year, we don't believe the crowds would have held out as long as they did. You can generally bank on 'em winning their game.

HATTIE, FROM SHELBYVILLE, WRITES US A LETTER

Hattie Havens, RFD 2, Shelbyville, Ind., telephone number 939-2, has directed to Hittin' 'em a lengthy letter, which we gladly submit, and if our wife wouldn't object we'd call her up and kid her a little, but if anyone else wants to talk to her, after reading what she says, go to it. Her letter is as follows:

"I am in a rather good humor just now, and thought I would make a call on you while it lasts, whether its welcome or not. Your article was headed in large letters, 'Shelbyville is still crying about something.' Hot dog! Its a grand and glorious feeling. Franklin returned home with the victory in the hands of Shelby, Muncie returned home after the Muncie-Shelbyville game Friday, February 2 with another scalp tied to Shelby's belt—Coach Thomas Campbell is the BEST basketball coach in the state and the Rushville or rather Rush county boys got their basketball education from the good old Shelbyville high school.

"If those two Rush county boys had been unfortunate so much as to collect their B. B. spirit from Rushville and the county, 9 times out of 10 they wouldn't know now any more than the rest of Rush county teams. They would have lacked the long basket shooting which counts highly to the credit of the Shelby team. Rushville has a team that is composed of good looking men and Shelby has material—Shelby is composed of much better material for basketball, then too, it counts largely of spirit and pep. From all fans, students and Shelby people they all turn out for their devoted team. That's what it takes to win a game. The boys can not do it alone. They gotta have support, and anyone that knows anything about a game knows its got to have a coach, and supporters."

Then following with some more, she continues "Wait until the Shelby tournament. I will be there with bells on, and the best yell leader that ever yelled at a tournament will be there with smiles. And all Shelby people will be there. We will show our appreciation by yelling so hard that even Rushville will hear us and tremble! Why all this crying tho? O we're happy the way Shelbyville buried Muncie, Hurrah!

"Here is the trouble right now Rushville, don't be shocked or surprised for I don't see how you could. Any old day in the week that Moscow played Shelby—Shelby would have the game won, understand? W O N, before Moscow could get started. In fact if Moscow could find the basket and ball, it would be after Shelby or some kind person placed a bell on it, so they could find where the ball was.

"If you wish to know more about the basketball—concerning old Shelby, just call me by phone, 939-2.

Miss Hattie Havens,
R. R. 2, Shelbyville, Ind.

WE GOT YOU ALL FIGURED OUT, HATTIE

Gee, Hattie, we thought you said in the beginning that you were in a good humor. We don't know you, but we would almost make a wager. You are either in love with one of those Homer players, or else you think a whole lot of the yell leader. We can just picture you now, sitting on the bleachers, hollerin' your head off, squealing every time the ball is in Shelby's hands. How do you stand the excitement, and how can you manage to have to wait a whole week for the games to come. But even yet, Hittin' 'em can't figure out, WHY IS SHELBY CRYING?

LET'S MOVE THE STATE HOUSE TO SHELBY

To hear Hattie talk, you would think that Muncie was Vincennes, and that Rushville was equal to that Passaic, N. J. team.

Even after all of the lecturing from Hattie, we're still pickin' in' Anderson—NOT SHELBYVILLE.

EVANSVILLE FIVE BEARS WATCHING

Central High School, Conquerors of "Invincible" Vincennes, May Cope The State

HAS A "PLACE IN THE SUN"

By COTTON HUGHES (Written for United Press) Evansville, Ind., Feb. 10—Have you heard of Evansville Central's basketball team stoppin' 'em in 1923. Central has bagged several straights.

Up until 1923, Central has won its district meets—it always does—and went to the state tourney without any great sensation. Maybe they won their first game at the state and maybe Sandusky knocked them off.

But Central will bear watching this year as a contender for the state basketball title, experts aver. Central's squad is built around two three-year veterans of basketball. Captain Billy Allen and Gil Flenkle have been on the team since

Miss Lena Buell will entertain the members of the Shakespeare Club Tuesday evening at her home, 530 North Perkins street.

Mrs. D. C. Compton was hostess to the members of the Tarry-A-White club Friday afternoon at her home in West Third Street. The ladies spent the afternoon socially with needlework. At the close of the meeting dainty refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mullin delightfully entertained Friday evening with a prettily appointed dinner party at their home in North Perkins street. The dining table was beautifully decorated for the occasion with red hearts and cupid, carrying out the Valentine spirit. Covers were laid for twenty eight guests. Following the serving of the dinner the remainder of the evening was enjoyed over card tables playing Five Hundred.

Mrs. Emily Wedgewood, of East Chicago, president of the Rebekah Assembly, and Mrs. Robertson formerly a trustee of the assembly, and now district deputy president of Clay county, were the main speakers at the regular meeting of the Rebekah Lodge held Friday evening at the lodge rooms in West Second street. Splendid talks were given by the two officers and were enjoyed by the large audience present for the meeting. Five candidates were given the Rebekah degree by the degree staff of the Arlington lodge, and the work was beautifully done. Most of the county lodges were represented meeting. Preceding the meeting, the officers and the committees appointed to make arrangements for the meeting enjoyed a delicious pitch-in supper at this meeting. Preceding this, the in North Perkins street.

100 WAYS To Make Money

By BILLY WINNER

If I Were a Housekeeper—

I WOULD be the best little home manager ever! I would show friend husband a few things about making money, without starting capital, that would surprise him.

I would buy new furniture with old. I would, if I employed a maid, always have a competent one.

I would sell a lot of things in my house that we no longer wanted—maybe a chair or a table or a rug or a bed. Possibly an old trunk, a used gown, crockery, old paper, a worn-out stove or even a discarded lawn mower.

I would do these things and many more on the tiniest investment imaginable, probably figured in cents instead of dollars. In other words, I'd invest in Daily Republican Want Ads.

BEAUTY CONTEST WINNERS

"MISS AMERICA" AND "MISS MOUNT ROYAL" MEET
"Miss America" (left)—otherwise Miss Mary Katherine Campbell, of Columbus, Ohio—and "Miss Mount Royal", picked by a committee of artists as the most beautiful Canadian girl, to be queen of the Montreal Winter Carnival. "Miss Mount Royal" (Miss Helen Morgan of Montreal), came to New York to accompany "Miss America" back to Canada, where the winner of last summer's national beauty contest will share the honors of the Carnival for a week or more as the guest of Miss Mount Royal.

Mrs. Helen Pierson will be hostess to the members of the Coterie Monday afternoon at her home in West Third street.

Mrs. O. M. Dale will entertain the members of the Five Hundred club Monday afternoon at the Elks club rooms in East Second street.

The Royal Neighbors will meet in regular session Monday night at the Modern Woodman hall. All members are requested to be present as plans for the coming year will be arranged.

The Epworth League of the St. Paul's Methodist church will hold a Valentine social at the church Monday night at 7:30 o'clock. Games, music and contests will feature the entertainment and refreshments will be served. Everyone is invited to attend this social.

Mrs. Fred Caldwell was hostess to the members of the Grand Club Thursday afternoon at her home in North Morgan street, when she entertained with a beautiful one o'clock luncheon. The appointments were carried out in Valentine suggestions and place cards marked covers for twelve ladies. The ladies spent the afternoon over the card tables.

AGAINST COUNTY UNIT BILL
Officers of the Union Township association of the Rush County Farm Bureau called attention today to the fact that their association also had gone on record at a recent meeting against the county unit school bill. Another resolution adopted also favored the gasoline tax provided taxes to a similar amount were taken off the revenue of the state highway commission.

clude all territory affected by the drain.

It will be recalled that the branch, which is located in the northwest part of Rushville, has caused much high water in severe rainy weather, and that property owners petitioned the council about a year ago for the improvement.

The council had three plans of procedure, either to construct the ditch as a city unit, issuing bonds for the improvement, or to tax people in the city whose property was affected by the improvement, or to tax the entire land affected, which included territory outside of the corporation.

The council decided that the farm lands north of Rushville would be affected, and decided upon this plan which made it necessary to take it to the circuit court in order to secure legal right to tax the outside lands.

TO BE REMOVED TO HER HOME

Mrs. Deiny Ryan, who has been undergoing treatment in St. Vincent's hospital in Indianapolis for many weeks, has improved during the past few days and was to be removed to her home in this city today.

BUILDING CODE INVALID

Muncie, Ind., Feb. 10.—Judge Clarence Dearth has declared invalid a building code ordinance passed recently by the city council requiring that all homes erected within a certain radius must be built according to plans drawn by a competent architect and should be of brick or stone. Suit contesting the ordinance was filed by Mrs. Della Martin and her contention was upheld.

VALUE OF GARDEN PLANNING

Fireside gardening, or more literally speaking in these more modern days, radiator gardening, is one of the most popular of winter pastimes and steadily growing in popularity. It is the season for it now. It consists of dreaming and making your garden on paper.

Half the success of gardening depends upon a proper plan. Of course it is possible to make a reasonably good garden by going at it with nothing but the ground and a supply of seeds before you, but if a plan is drawn and you know just exactly what and how much you are going to plant, and just where in your garden patch you are going to plant it, you have a working basis that will save a great amount of time and labor and produce considerable economy in production. And besides, how much better looking!

Take a tape measure (the fifty-foot tapes sold in reels at hardware stores are the most convenient) and measure the length and width of the plot you have set aside for a garden. Make a plan of the same proportions to scale on paper.

Mark down the places on the plotted garden where you expect to plant the different vegetables. Straight rows north and south are best and much easier to care for than square or oblong beds. They also make succession and companion planting easier.

between the rows and mark each row for the vegetable you intend to plant there.

The minimum space between rows is usually determined by the cultivating tools you use. For a wheel hoe, 12 to 18 inches is the usual allowance. Make it just right for a thorough job of cultivating with one trip down the aisle. Where horse cultivators are used, 3 feet is the minimum distance. In general, the closer the rows the richer the soil should be, or the more heavily fertilized. The distance between plants in the row will vary with the plants. Catalogues and packets give this data usually. In some cases, as with corn, cabbages, cauliflower, the larger head lettuce and the vine crops, extra width between rows must be allowed because of the needs of the plant. If rows are planted too closely it becomes a difficult task to hoe and keep them weeded.

When you come to transfer your plan, follow it strictly and do not be tempted to make the rows closer together because the tiny plants seem so lonesomely far apart or the tiny seeds don't look as if they would ever grow to fill the space allotted. They make a fast growth if given half a chance and will have none too much room. Remember that they need even more room underground to forage for food with the widely extended and fine root systems than they need above ground for their leaves and stems.

Allow for the proper spacing be-

that this amount would be insufficient to complete the work, and added that he would seek a restoration of the $2,000,000 appropriation in the senate. Besides the reformatory item, the budget bill carries $14,000,000 for the expenses of the state institutions, and other branches of the state government for the next two years. Few changes of importance, except that of the reformatory, were made by the House in its consideration of the bill.

When the budget is out of the way next week, the House is expected to turn attention to several administration measures that are ready for action, with minor legislation coming for disposition at odd times. The Senate, being ahead of the House in its work, will turn to the budget bill as soon as it receives the measure.

House leaders also indicated today that they expected to take up during the next week of the bills dealing with increased automobile license fees and the gasoline tax. These measures are designed to produce the revenue for state highway construction and result in the discard of the present general property tax for road building. Favorable action on these measures, Gov. McCray has indicated, would cut more than $1,500,000 off the taxpayers' bill every year, and incidentally place the burden of road building on those who use the roads.

The soldier bonus and the bill to prohibit commercialized sports on Memorial Day also are awaiting House action, and are scheduled for early action there.

HOUSE OF DAVID IS BEHIND ITS "KING"

Fight To Evade Appearing in Court As Witness in $800,000 Suit Brought By Two Followers

SISTERS SEEK TO GET LAND

Benton Harbor, Mich., Feb. 10.—The House of David was solidly behind its "king" today in his fight to evade appearing in court as a witness in the $800,000 suit brought against him by two former followers. Leaders met here to pass a vote of confidence in their chief and consider plans for his defense.

The court at Paw Paw will decide on February 18 whether King Benjamin Parnell will have to appear or not.

The suit filed by Mrs. Ruth Bamford Reed and Mrs. Gladys Bamford Hubel, sisters, seek to recover certain lands alleged to have been turned over to Parnell by their parents.

Mrs. Reed in an affidavit alleged King Benjamin forced her parents to give up the lands when they journeyed to Benton Harbor from Australia to join in the sect.

She also charged Parnell and others with immoral practices and alleged she and her sister with 24 other young girls were forced to marry men they did not know.

"The word of Parnell is the word of God to his followers and they must all obey," Mrs. Reed declared.

unrealized brotherhood. What we need is not so much a Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers, but a brotherhood of trainmen, conductors, shopmen, ticket agents, track men, passengers and general public. We need not only a brotherhood of the Anglo Saxon race, but of the Mongolian race, of those of every other race including the Irish, and the Germans, and the Italian and the English. God made of one blood all nations. Lack of this brotherhood is the cause of all wars, of all the industrial strife, of every law suit, and of all the wrongs and injustices. Christ came to found a brotherhood of all men.

"Fourth—Our faith is founded on the fact of an unsatisfied hope," he said. The speaker illustrated the unsatisfactory nature of worldly hope by showing how it had failed in the case of individuals. Groesus sought for wealth, but it did not satisfy. Alexander was still unsatisfied after conquering the world. Even Solomon was constrained to say near the end of his life "All is vanity and a chasing after wind".

"Fifth—Our faith is based on the fact of a sure salvation. These other facts only pave the way for this one. It in turn is based on promise, asserted the preacher, citing many, "Whosoever will may come and take of the water of life freely." "Whosoever calleth on the name of the Lord shall be saved." "The Son of Man has power on earth to forgive sins." "Man, the friendless may find the strong arms of the Saviour about him." "I call you no longer servants but friends." Man, the hopeless looks into the shining face of his Lord and he is enabled to say, "I can do all things through him who strengtheneth me." The diffident man can say, "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth."

A SEVEN ROOM MODERN RESIDENCE DESIGNED BY W. W. PURDY

This attractive home is 32 ft. 6 in. wide by 29 ft. 6 in. in depth. It is not a large house but is well appointed with every convenience, no waste room and designed for comfort without any unnecessary expense.

The outside walls are built from the grade line to the second story window sills with brick veneer, and cement stucco above. The finish both inside and out is perfectly plain but of good material.

The porch entrance on the left opens with a vestibule into the living room 23 ft. by 13 ft.

There is a coat closet opening off from the entrance vestibule. The floor of vestibule and bath room is of tile laid on a cement base.

The stairs are on the combination order with a section from the kitchen to the upper landing, and the basement stairs underneath with a grade entrance.

There is one main chimney with a wide fireplace in living room, and a separate flue for the heating plant.

The finish of the first story is of oak with dark mission finish and natural oak floors and the second story finished in birch and the chambers enameled white, the floor of birch.

The kitchen is good size with plenty of cupboards and in the rear is an enclosed entry with space for refrigerator.

The second story has three chambers, sleeping porch and bath room, and plenty of closet space.

There is a full basement 7 ft. in the clear with a 12 in. concrete foundation. The floor of basement is cemented and there is a laundry, store room and heater room.

The first story is 9 ft. in the clear and the second story is 8 ft. and 6 in. in the clear. The plan is for a south or west front.

The estimated cost exclusive of heating and plumbing is $8,000 to $10,000.
